2010 Carneros Pinot Noir

OVERVIEW

- Sourced from mature hillside vineyards in Carneros, well known for its Burgundian-style terroir
- Aged in French oak barrels for 12 months to develop varietal characteristics.

VINEYARDS & VINTAGE

The Carneros appellation, spanning Napa and Sonoma counties, is renowned for producing acclaimed Pinot Noir and well known for its Burgundian-style terroir. Cooling breezes from San Pablo Bay create mild days, ideal growing conditions for elegant Pinot Noir wines. The Pinot Noir grapes for this wine were grown on hillside vineyards in the cool Carneros region. The blend represents a composite of several Pinot Noir clones from mature vines.

The 2010 growing season experienced a series of challenges starting with rainy, cool weather in the spring and a late summer that delayed budbreak and flowering. The foggy weather continued through July, until an intense heat wave in August, which further stunted the size of the crop. The season ended with heavy storms and low temperatures in October. While small, the crop was of the highest quality, leading to wines of refined elegance.

FERMENTATION AND MATURATION

The grapes for this Pinot Noir were hand picked in October. After destemming, the grapes were whole-berry fermented in open-top fermenters, which were punched down manually to provide maximum flavor and minimum harsh tannins. Following fermentation, the wine was transferred to a mix of new and matured small French oak barrels for eight months. Prior to bottling, the wine received minimal filtration and fining to preserve the fresh berry flavors.

TASTING NOTES
