VINEYARDS & VINTAGE

Colchagua Valley, located in the heart of Chile, offers exceptional soils and a Mediterranean climate that allows grapes to ripen slowly, leading to complex flavors and aromas. Wine Spots worked with winemaker Alejandro Jofre to craft a “Super Chilean” blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Carmenère, Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot.

The 2007 vintage began with a slightly colder winter than average and normal rainfall. Budding began in spring with mild temperatures. Spring was dry and cold, as was early summer that gave way to a cool and cloudy March. The lack of sun delayed fruit maturation, which helped develop good levels of acidity and varietal characteristics. Harvest began in April for some varietals and ended in May.

FERMENTATION AND MATURATION

The grapes for this red wine blend were hand-selected and cold soaked. Pump overs during the fermentation process were kept short to encourage soft extraction. The wine was aged in French oak barrels for 8 months to develop elegant tannins and structure.

TASTING NOTES

Wine Spots Colchagua Valley Red Wine offers a richness that captures the diversity of the region and the sustainably farmed vineyard’s proximity to the Andes foothills and Pacific Ocean. Aged in French oak for 8 months, the wine has elegant tannins and a structured body with red fruits, hints of tobacco and dark chocolate.
